

Religious School...education and enrichment

Fun Passover Songs

Purim flew right by us and it's hard to believe here we are faced with Pesach beginning. Where has our year gone? The first Seder is Monday night, April 10. Every year at our table we like to add something fun and new to our Seder. One of my favorite websites to visit for Pesach resources is jewishfreeware.org. Rabbi Barry Dov Lerner has written several fabulous haggadot over the years that are available for free download at his website. However, my favorite resource of his is the World's Largest Seder Songbook. Updated every year, Rabbi Lerner adds new and old songs for everyone to enjoy around the table. From the Yiddish Four Questions to Take Us Out Of Egypt (a parody of Take Me Out to the Ballgame) there is a song for everyone to sing and enjoy. I've taken the opportunity to reprint a couple of my favorites for you to enjoy. Just remember, if you are going to use this resource, start early. Rabbi Lerner has 218 pages of songs to choose from.

The Order of the Seder

by Gary Teblum; kosher4passover.com

To the tune of It's a Small World

We wash our hands

And we bless the wine

Greens put in salt water

Dippings so fine

There's so much that we see

Celebrating we're free

It's our Pass-Over seder.

(chorus)

It's our Pass-Over seder

It's our Pass-Over seder

It's our Pass-Over seder

It's our Passover seder.

We break the matzah

Four questions are asked

We tell the story

About our past

The motzi we say

Because that is the way

Of our Pass-Over seder.

(repeat chorus)

Take Me Out To The Seder

To the tune of Take Me Out to the Ball Game!

Take me out to the Seder

Take me out with the crowd.

Feed me on matzah and chicken legs,

I don't care for the hard-boiled eggs.

And its root, root, root for Elijah

That he will soon reappear.

And let's hope, hope, hope that we'll

Meet once again next year!

What a busy month March was! We had a great weekend at Spring Kallah Convention in Houston. While in Houston, we had an amazing Shabbat with friends, and then had a great game of broomball! The Mystery Bus ride throughout Dallas was so much fun, stopping at several "mystery" locations and then spending the night at Anshai. April 1-2, we will be hosting 5-8th graders from all over the region for our upcoming Kadima Convention. We are very excited to be hosting this event and look forward to a great convention with old and new friends!